

Apparently, banks have presented a petition to the FCC to allow them to telemarket their current , past and future customers for more business. I am AGAINST letting banks telemarket customers. If this petition passes there will be no end to the phone calls with people trying to sell you something. Please do not approve this petition!